

Right to Food (Scotland) Bill

Introduction

A proposal for a Bill to incorporate the right to food into Scots law.

The consultation runs from 25 November 2021 to 16 February 2022.

All those wishing to respond to the consultation are strongly encouraged to enter their responses electronically through this survey. This makes collation of responses much simpler and quicker. However, the option also exists of sending in a separate response (in hard copy or by other electronic means such as e-mail), and details of how to do so are included in the member's consultation document.

Questions marked with an asterisk (*) require an answer.

All responses must include a name and contact details. Names will only be published if you give us permission, and contact details are never published – but we may use them to contact you if there is a query about your response. If you do not include a name and/or contact details, we may have to disregard your response.

Please note that you must complete the survey in order for your response to be accepted. If you don't wish to complete the survey in a single session, you can choose "Save and Continue later" at any point. Whilst you have the option to skip particular questions, you must continue to the end of the survey and press "Submit" to have your response fully recorded.

Please ensure you have read the consultation document before responding to any of the questions that follow. In particular, you should read the information contained in the document about how your response will be handled. The consultation document is available here:

Q1. Which of the following best expresses your view of the proposal to incorporate the right to food into Scots law?

Fully supportive

Q1. Which of the following best expresses your view of the proposal to incorporate the right to food into Scots law?

Please explain the reasons for your response.

The level of need of many people in my own community and in the areas I work in is not addressed by the Welfare system and the current level of support requires disclosure with at least 2 organisations

Q2. Do you think legislation is required, or are there other ways in which the proposed Bill's aims could be achieved more effectively? Please explain the reasons for your response.

The only way this can be resolved is through legislation since current arrangements are not resolving the problem

Q3. Which of the following best expresses your view on an independent statutory body being given responsibility for overseeing and reporting on progress towards realising the right to food?

Fully supportive

Please explain the reasons for your response.

The people running the various schemes and programmes have failed to address the issue. Legislation should specify new organisations since the 'usual suspects' have proven incompetent for a variety of reasons.

Q4. Should an independent body be given responsibility for overseeing and reporting on the right to food, do you think it should be:

A newly created body

Please explain the reasons for your response.

The current providers have failed for years to address this ever worsening situation.

Q5. Which of the following best expresses your view of enshrining a right to food into Scots law as a priority in advance of, and in a manner which is compatible with, any further Scottish Government legislation on wider human rights?

Fully supportive

Please explain the reasons for your response.

We need solutions now. Too many people, including children, will suffer while we wait for another consultation and legislative process. If the Government wanted this enshrined in Human Rights, they would have done so before now since food is more important than most rights granted in the HRA

Q6. Which of the following best expresses your view of placing responsibility for guaranteeing the right to food on the Scottish Government?

Fully supportive

Q6. Which of the following best expresses your view of placing responsibility for guaranteeing the right to food on the Scottish Government?

Please explain the reasons for your response.

If the Scottish Government is responsible it will be fully funded. Local authorities and charities tend to focus in an issue while its in the public eye and they tend to cut projects like this when there is a squeeze on budgets.

Covid-19 Pandemic

Q7. What impact do you consider the effects of, and response to, the Covid-19 pandemic has had on the need for a right to food to be incorporated into Scots law?

No significant impact

Please explain the reasons for your response.

The pandemic has not increased the need for legislation, it has highlighted the long term need that has existed. It also highlighted the incompetence of local authorities to meet specific needs - during the pandemic they could only provide standard food packs with no consideration for vegetarians, diabetics, etc

Financial Implications

Q8. Taking into account all those likely to be affected (including public sector bodies, businesses and individuals etc), is the proposed Bill likely to lead to:

no overall change in costs

Please indicate where you would expect the impact identified to fall (including public sector bodies, businesses and individuals etc). You may also wish to suggest ways in which the aims of the Bill could be delivered more cost-effectively.

Most of the cost of this initiative will be paid for in a reduction in health issues, increased educational attainment, less admissions to care homes (people will be less frail with secure and appropriate food supplies).

Also, this bill will reduce the cost of foodbanks which could also be diverted to this initiative.

Equalities

Q9. What overall impact is the proposed Bill likely to have on equality, taking account of the following protected characteristics (under the Equality Act 2010): age, disability, gender re-assignment, marriage and civil partnership, pregnancy and maternity, race, religion or belief, sex, sexual orientation?

Positive

Please explain the reasons for your response. Where any negative impacts are identified, you may also wish to suggest ways in which these could be minimised or avoided.

People with disabilities will be better protected and people will not have to approach specialist organisations to collect food bank vouchers.

Q9. What overall impact is the proposed Bill likely to have on equality, taking account of the following protected characteristics (under the Equality Act 2010): age, disability, gender re-assignment, marriage and civil partnership, pregnancy and maternity, race, religion or belief, sex, sexual orientation?

People with health problems will have better diets, helping them cope physically and mentally.

Sustainability

Q10. In terms of assessing the proposed Bill's potential impact on sustainable development, you may wish to consider how it relates to the following principles:

- living within environmental limits
- ensuring a strong, healthy and just society
- achieving a sustainable economy
- promoting effective, participative systems of governance
- ensuring policy is developed on the basis of strong scientific evidence.

With these principles in mind, do you consider that the Bill can be delivered sustainably?

Yes

Please explain the reasons for your response.

This is where a new organisation is required that will be able to deliver an initiative based to true Community Development, not local authorities playing cat it to tick boxes

General

Q11. Do you have any other additional comments or suggestions on the proposed Bill (which have not already been covered in any of your responses to earlier questions)?

This Bill is required as a matter of urgency but if its left to the usual organisations it will be a waste of time and a financial white elephant with organisations just looking for another funding stream to sustain unrealistic salaries of overpaid directors and managers.
